age!" Strange, too, that it should be, since question was first up between two reports, one for and the other against mileage for the extra session, under the pressure of the ayes and noes, voted decidedly against the mileage! A be equivalent to personal service of notice upon Committee of Courts of Justice, who reported that mileage for the extra session was legal. The report was read-nobody said a wordthe Speaker put the question, and it passed. like a riflle shell through a screen of illusion! (The voice of the author of the minority report, Mr. Waddell, alone being audibly given in the negative.) In twenty minutes afterwards,

A spectator of the scene described it years ago as having been the most incomparably humor-

Mr. Webster's argument was one of the strongest he ever made, and is as good now as it was then. Mileage forever!-Richmond Dispatch.

they can make their own calculations: "The pounds in a bushel. For instance, at $1 50 per bushel for wheat, what is the price per cental? -150x100 -15,000x50-$2 50-which is the price per cental. Again, the price per cental being given, to find the price per bushel multi ply the price per cental by the number of pounds in a bushel and divide by one hundred. Example: At $2 50 per cental, what is the price per bushel of sixty pounds?-250x60-15.000x100-$1 50 the price per bushel.-Baltimore Sun.

' AN OPINION.—The New York Herald's the Presidency and Vice Presidency, next year, has elicited some uncomplimentary comments. As Bennett never felt any other than a pecuniary resentment at insult, he coolly publishes one of these, as follows: PHILADELPHIA, March 9, 1867.

J. G. Bennett, Esq. :

lish journals against chignons is having a very marked effect upon that article in that market. The ladies are beginning very generally to throw it aside, and it was observed that at the opera last evening but few were worn in the more fashionable of the boxes. There are places in New York where thousands of dollars are invested in the manufacture of them, and the panic that has been started about the "pediculi" threatens to quite ruin the trade .-

A merchant in Belfast, had at one time in his employ an Irishman possessed of a good C A L O I L5 bbls. No. 1 deal more zeal than knowledge. His employer and for sale low by gave him the key of his post-office box one morning with directions to "go to the post office and get the contents of forty. Pat vanished, but presently came back with pockets, hat, and hands filled with a miscellaneous col lection of letters, &c., and the explanation, "I couldn't open forty boxes, sir, but I opened all I could, and here they be!'

WAITS IN VAIN .- In Kentucky lives a man, the head of a very respectable and intelligent family, who, during one week in each month, about the first quarter of the moon, imagines himself a woman, dons the hoops and balmoral, and sits in his parlor waiting for his beau. This strange conduct was first noticed in him when he was about seventeen years of age .-He is now fifty-one.

MILEAGE. - Mileage is a very troublesome question; especially your "constructive milethe question is always decided the same wayi. e., for "constructive mileage." Our own House of Delegates, the other day, when the shrewd tactician contrived the reference to the | the parties possibly forty gentlemen had their mileage! Many years ago, a great tempest arose on the subject of constructive mileage in the U. S. Senate. One day the Senate had taken a recess, and it was nearly time to assemble egain. A few members were already in the Chamber. Senator Budger, of North Carolina, was earnestly engaged in argument with some tlemen that constructive mileage is legal. "Ah, Bauger," replied the great expounder, "you needn't trouble yourself; there is one argument that will settle that question without more words." "What is that, Mr. Webster?" inquired Mr. B.; when the great senator, with an air of humorous insinuation, in which he could not be excelled, significantly patted his pocket! The North Carolina senator, a little touched by this humorous treatment of his very serious opinions, remarked with much emphasis: "But, Mr. Webster, I am in earnest, and believe my opinion of the law is correct. Don't you intend to draw your mileage?" "No, Badger, no; I intend to do nothing of the kind"; and pausing a moment, looking most quizzically at his North Carolina triend, he added : "I have already drawn it!"

ous he ever witnessed. It kept the senators in a good humor for at least a day.

BUYING AND SELLING GRAIN BY THE CEN-TAL -The "cental," or system of buying and selling grain by the 100 pounds, which is now in general use in the West and in a few Easte n cities, is likely to create some confusion in the quotations, but in order that buyers and sellers may avoid error, we give a rule by which standard weight of wheat per bushel is sixty pounds; corn and rye, fifty-six pounds; oats, thirty-two pounds; barley, forty-eight pounds. The price per bushel being given, to find the price per cental, multiply the price per bushel by one hundred, and divide by the number of
